

Continuous prose checkpoint paper

Figure 1. Source flowchart

Pseudocode

```
for each source line:
    compare source and rendition
    keep the named property visible
```

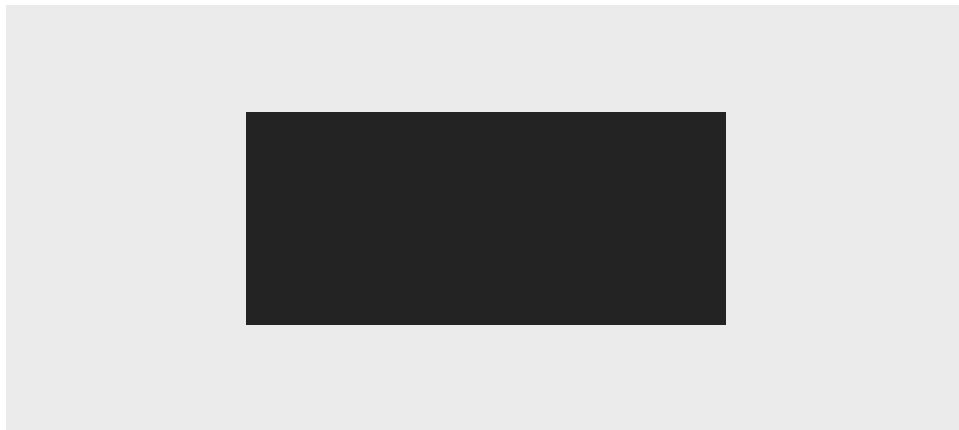

Figure 1 caption stays below the source flowchart.

A second result sentence runs off the bottom of this page and continues at the top of the next one without losing its clause.

The high-resolution source photograph remains clear.

A photograph attests the joined form.

The source preserves the rare-fragment compound.

The rare-fragment spelling is attested.

Not a heading and not bold and {placeholder} stay literal.

1. Literal numbered syntax stays prose.

First indented paragraph begins and continues on its next line.

Second indented paragraph begins and continues independently.

A widely spaced source line begins and remains source-contiguous despite its spacing.

Prose before the owned equation remains clean.

$$E = m c^2 (1)$$

Prose after the owned equation remains clean.

Left context establishes a column.

right column with source proof.

Left evidence preserves source order.

Right evidence preserves source order.

Left geometry reaches the final line.

Right context completes the gutter.

The result continues toward the